

Not enough time is spent on the reasons we use transplants in the first place and what it takes to establish a new planting in the forest. The success or failure of your long-term timber plantings can be determined in the first few hours of root growth.

An ihort growing system is the best start for your plantings. Working with you and your unique requirements, ihort will help you produce the best tree seedlings possible.

WE ARE YOUR SOLUTION!

ihort is the premier innovator and supplier of propagation media that promotes healthier root development.

ihort plugs are more versatile than any other growing system*

Proven Success

ihort plugs have been used successfully in the forestry industry for over 40 years.

No Root Barriers

ihort media has no root barriers, ihort plugs do not require any paper or netting to hold them together.

Cost Saving

No need to get new trays. You can use your existing trays as ihort's media can be produced in almost any tray.
